Dr. John E. Wesley Succumbs to Second Paralytic Stroke

ley, one of the pioneers of Salt Lake City, died from a second paralytic stroke at the age of 82 years. The first stroke came a week ago yesterday and it had been known for several days that his chances for recovery were very slight. Early yesterday morning he told his famchances for recovery were very slight. Early yesterday morning he told his family that he knew he would not live through the day. He said he had a premonition that he would die at noon.

Dr. Wesley was born in Cambridge, England, eighty-two years ago on Jan. 16. He became a convert of the Mormon church in England and served in the mission field in South Africa for seven years. He came to this country fifty-three years ago and had lived in Salt Lake City for fifty-two years. He came across the plains with the same company with which John Smith, the putriarch of the church, traveled to Salt Lake City.

For many years Dr. Wesley was prominent as a physician in the city. He retired from active practice some years ago although answering frequent calls of his old patients up to the time of his last illness. He accumulated considerable real estate and other property and was reported to be very well-to-do. The funeral will be held at the residence at 2 o'clock. Thursday afternoon, that time being set to allow relatives in various sections of Utah and Idaho to be present.

Of course we are better known in Sait Lake as contractors for plumbing and that. Of course we are better known as Salt Lake as contractors for plumbing and Sait Lake as contractors for plumbing and heating, but we have done a great deal of other kinds of work in other states. POLICE INTERRUPT PLANS OF "WEARIES"

Five "Weary Willies" of the original type proceeded to convert the Pioneer square into a public drinking place Sunday afternoou, but met with discouragement almost on the start. They had just seated themselves and were preparing to enjoy their "booze" when Patrolmen Lyon and Pierce happened along and placed the gang under arrest. At the station they gave the names of Frank Edgerton, Pio Girdo, J. S. Kicks, J. Tesseman and H. B. Drummer. All are strangers in the city and unknown to the police. The total amount of money taken from the five men did not amount to $1. They were charged with vagrancy and will probably be given an opportunity to leave the city by Judge Bowman this afternoon.

Mr. Paul loves Salt Lake City. He says "One of the matters that impressed me most in England was the great change that has come about concerning the freedom of speech. This act is put on by the Kitabanzai troupe of equilbrists, acrobats and jugglers. There are exhibitions of the gentle art of physical culture in this act that are actually amazing without being startling. One of the most beautiful displays of Japanese embroidery work ever brought to Salt Lake is to be seen in the stage arrangement. People who like this sort of thing and know it when they see it ought by no means to miss the stage decoration in connection with the Japanese troupe. School Board Will Probably ten proof is put on by Chinko, whoever he is. This young fellow does the most wonderful things in the dexterity and am-bidexterity line. He has new stuff and as seldom charged with a miss.

As clever a bicycle rider as ever came down a road or appeared before a public audience is Miss Minnie Kaufmann. She is billed as "The extraordinary lady cyclist." She is. She does everything on a bicycle, tricycle and quadricycle that imagination may conceive, and she does it well. Besides, she is an exceptionally retty woman with an exceptionally pret-y figure set off with an exceptionally retty costume. An act that deserves a meed of praise is "In the Subway," presented by Miss Violet Black and her associates. The playlet is quite keen, but it was the expression of the audience that some of the horseplay in the first part of the sketch might be eliminated with profit to all processed. In addition to Miss Black, sere appear with credit to themselves in the piece Cameron Clemens, Herbert Mor-ris and E. W. Brown. The stage ar-rangement for this production is a note-worthy example of the modern theatrical mechanic's trade.

Fanny Rice is funny. She gives "miniature mimics" on a "stage" that is arranged all to suit the act. Her impersonations, or, rather, caricatures, of President Taft and former President Roosevelt

But it must be intrinsically a pretty good musical comedy to last through so many seasons, and this is exactly what "The Burgomaster" is. It is full of wit and of catchy music. In fact, there is scarcely one of the lyrics which is not whistlingly familiar.

Everett Scott, a more or less abbreviated member of the human family, appears as "Ted Bear." He does well. With him are six women who sing in good voice and dance with grace and at times with vigor. The costumes are good and the music is pleasing.

In Herbert Mitchell one is reminded of good old John Maguire and the other veteran monologuists, who just came out on the stage and told funny stories and sang good. wholesome songs. Mitchell is an wholesome songs. Mitchell is an entertainer. The selection at the intermission by Mr. Welhe's orchestra, "The Idol's Eye," was delightful.

"Carmen," as presented by Miss Mary Hall and associate players, scored a dis-tinct hit at the Bungalow theatre last evening, and, though the audience was smaller than the merits of the play might warrant, there was nothing in the work of these comprising the east to wilcorte that popular prices are charged. The house was packed, and it seemed to be thoroughly pleased. Harry Hermsen, in the leading comedy role of Peter Stuyves-ant, handled the part creditably, and the

of the company was reasonably satistatory.

"The Burgomaster" remains the rest of the week.

There is no fault or faltering in the bill the Orpheum this week. From start to nish it is good. Perhaps it were better that the fact had any injurious effect.

Miss Hall gave her usual finished interpretation of the part. As "Carmen" she was even more delightful than in a similar part in "The Rose of the Rancho.".

George Baldwin as Don Jose Libengoa also gave a finished performance, though his work occasionally lacked in confidence. T. N. Heffron as Escamillo, toreador and matador, Walter Robinson as Pedro and Anna Cleveland as Theresa were excellent.

Last night witnessed three packed houses at the new Lyric, and every one present voted it an excellent bill. The eight features of the week are all fine. The photography in each picture is clear and distinct and the stories good. Late last evening word was received from the east that will enable Manager Clark to exhibit the "Last Days of Pompeil" for a second week. Beginning tonight Warren E. "The Great McEwen" opened a return engagement at the Grand last evening. There was a big house, which showed every sign of appreciation of the entertainment afforded by Mr. McEwen. He will be at the Grand all week.

MILK ORDINANGE

City Council Has Several Matters Scheduled for Tonight's Session.

TO PASS ON CONTRACTS to be the favorites with particular dressers.

BE AGAIN DISCUSSED.

The city council this evening will again take up the milk ordinance. The city pure food inspector has been patient and persistent in his urgency of this measure upon the city solons. It has been delayed a score of times, but each time he has managed to again bring it to the front. When the council adjourned last week, Councilman John Holley was on his feet Councilman John Holley was on his feet endeavoring to suppress the clause requiring cold storage butter to be so labeled and also urged a few minor changes.

The meat inspection ordinance will go over for another week to give, the committees another chance to discuss it. The members of the council are firm in the determination to clean up the slaughter houses, and many of the better class of butchers are coming around to the belief that a rigid ordinance will in the end benefit them.

At present all the butchers of the city except the Intermountain Packing company, which now has government inspection, are included in the sweeping con demnation, though there are many of grees in this. It is possible that sor suggestion of a city abattoir in the future may be brought about during the comi week.

The west side will take another shot or two at the Oregon Short Line. The municipal laws committee will reaffirm its former report recommending that the foot viaduct now in course of construction over Third West street be torn down, and that the company he compelled to build over Third West street be torn down, and that the company be compelled to build the bridge where it is claimed the franchise called for its erection, on the line of the sidewalk on the north side of South Temple street. The city attorney will advise the council that it can go ahead and tear out the abutments on the west side of Third West street, and it is just possible that this will be ordered. The railroad company still maintains its position that the bridge has been placed where it should be under the franchise, and a lawsuit is quite certain before the and a lawsuit is quite certain before the matter is settled.

To Confirm Contracts.

Contracts involving the expenditure of $200,000 will come from the board of public works for confirmation. This will include the laying of the water mains for the present year. Another contract will be awarded for the street signs and the work of placing these will be ordered so that they may be in position before the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in August. The North Temple street aqueduct work likely to give the council some trouble. The contractor is not proceeding as fast as the residents of the locality believe should be the case, and is almost certain to be behind the time for completing it. Recent rains are said to have interfered with the progress of the work, but there is much complaint from property owners of the district.

Asks Aid of Delegates in Washington to Get Mine Appliances on Free List.

J. E. Pettit, state coal mine inspector, has written Senators Reed Smoot and George Sutherland and Congressman Joseph Howell, asking their co-operation in the attempt being made to have placed on the free list, safety lamps and rescue appliances for mines. Mr. Pettit considers that the placing of all articles used in rescue work and in the prevention of accidents will lead to more general decidents. idents will lead to more general adoption of such to an extent greater than the law equires, and will benefit directly the mine

He took the matter up in response to a letter from J. A. Holmes, chief of the technologic branch of the geological survey, urging assistance. Many coal mine fires that have proved disastrous and caused loss of life and property could have been prevented if apparatus had been at hand.
